THE PROBLEM

You came for one person. You spent the night on everyone else.

Introduce yourself. Small talk. Realize it's not them. Excuse yourself. Repeat.

THE TIME WE GIVE BACK

8 years of small talk, handed back to SF Tech Week.

THE MARKET

Every room where someone came to meet someone.

1.65B

people at business events in 2025. Conferences, summits and meetups in 180+ countries.

950M

are there mainly to network. 58% say it's their #1 reason to go.

$2.9B

a year if each networker keeps their notes for $3 an event. From SF Tech Week's 1,593 events to Grace Hopper's 20,000 attendees.

Sources: Events Industry Council & Oxford Economics, Global Economic Significance of Business Events (2026) · Freeman, 2025 event trends report · tech-week.com · AnitaB.org. $3 per person per event is our planned price for meeting notes.

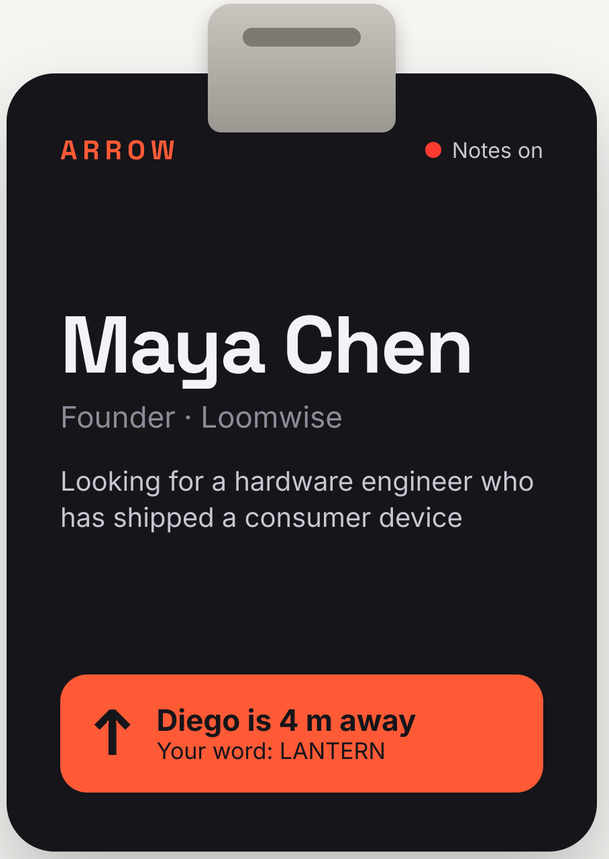

OUR VISION

A clip-on name tag that finds people for you.

Glows when your match is near. No phone out. You spot each other across the room.

Takes the notes. On-device recording, with both people's OK, turns every meeting into notes.

Remembers who mattered. Every conversation worth having, saved and ready to follow up.

$3 notes

Keep the notes from every meeting: $3 per person, per event.

Clip on

Pick one up at the door for a deposit. Return it, get it back.

Keep it

Buy the tag and wear it to every event you go to.
